Steven - As you know, I traveled to D&D's Lafayette, Louisiana location yesterday in furtherance of my clients' rights under Section 9.3 (b) of the Purchase Agreement. Although I clearly understood that some (perhaps most) of the personnel, books and records, documents, premises and other information are at ATC's offices in New Jersey, I fully expected to be able to exercise my clients' complete rights as to whatever personnel, books and records, documents, premises and other information existed at the Lafayette location. I was prevented from doing so. Specifically, I was not permitted to speak with the few remaining D&D employees, other than Mr. Richard.. Please call me at your first opportunity (I understand from your assistant that you are presently in trial) so that we can discuss what happened yesterday in Lafayette and firm up my plans to visit the New Jersey location. Additionally, I left a message this morning with your assistant, seeking to introduce Mr. O'Neill of the Hill Betts Firm who will be representing the Angelles in the New York litigation. He will be contacting you about seeking an extension of time to respond to the ATC Complaint and to postpone the Initial Scheduling Conference current set in mid November. Please contact us when you are able. Thank you.

Steve- I wanted to alert you that my calendar has been filling up and that I am no longer available to conduct the inspection contemplated under the SPA in NJ on Nov. 12 - 14. Please provide me with some possible dates asap so that we can lock the trip in and make travel arrangements. Thank you.

I realize you are in trial and look forward to discussing my visit with you in detail when you are able. You have apparently received erroneous reports. At no time was anyone mistreated and I would ask that you be specific since I am insulted that anyone would suggest to the contrary. Please call me when you are able.

Carl: You seemed like a gentleman when we spoke on the phone so I was quite shocked to learn how you mistreated my client's staff and abused the arrangement you and I had made. I told you when we spoke that I would be on trial this week, and the understanding was that you would ask for Jim Richard, who would show you documents that you could inspect and then tag for photocopying. I am told that you and your group tried to interrogate people on the premises and generally engaged in harassment and intimidation. And you also apparently exploited the situation by inspecting the premises to come up with allegations for your letter this evening claiming lease violations. When I complete my trial I will send you a more formal position letter on your unfortunate choice of tactics.
